McVean Says Chauvin Has Prettiest Townsite

Ronald McVean, who now represents the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., was in Chauvin, visiting Mr. Roy, last Monday. He also visited the Chronicle office. He related that his first visit to Chauvin was in 1908. At this he was member of the surveying engaged in staking out the town sites. The party camped near the present site of the mill. Chauvin was then a very pretty location, he remembered it as the prettiest along the line, and expressed pleasure in seeing the progress the town has made since that time.

Chauvin W. I. Notes

The regular meeting of the Chauvin Womens' Institute was held in the Rest Room on Saturday afternoon April 16th. The meeting was well attended.

For the convenience of members from the country it was decided to change the regular meeting day to the second Saturday of each month.

A program for the year was submitted and met with unanimous approval, both for its variety of subjects and their general interest to all. Each subject was assigned. The one for May "Music and its influence in the home," being taken by Mrs. H. Freeman. At this meeting also each member is requested to answer the roll call by a quotation from some Canadian author.

A short and interesting summary of the convention lately held in Wetaskiwin was given by Mrs. Roy, the detailed report to be given later. Mrs. Roy dwelt on the fact that we frequently have to go far afield to gain a proper appreciation of home talent. Both she and Mrs. Parcels had been gratified in answer to a number of queries to testify to "Ginger Snaps" identity and correct address.

The W. I. will as formerly give two prizes of ten and five dollars respectively for the two cleanest and best kept yard and garden.

To correct an erroneous impression that has prevailed that a member of the Catholic church could not be a member of the Institute the W. I. publish the following letter received by Mrs. Roy from Bishop O'Leary.

Dear Madam:-

It is not forbidden to a Catholic lady belonging to the Womens' Institute to take an active part in the organization or committee of her church.

It is to be remarked that this association not being religious do not or should not introduce religion.

Signed HENRY O' LEARY
Bishop of Edmonton

Manitou Ladies Aid

The Manitou Ladies Aid will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs Edward Foley, on April 20th to do sewing for a sale of work.

Considering the inclemency of the weather on Wednesday afternoon, there was a good turnout of members of the Manitou Ladies Aid at the home of Mrs. Thos Kitching, Artland. In the absence of the secretary and treasurer, Mrs M. Forrap and Mrs E. Reitchel, Miss E. Foley kindly took the offices for the day, on the motion of the president, Mrs R. Watson.

At this meeting it was agreed that the first Wednesday of the month was to be the business meeting of the Aid and what time was left was to be devoted to sewing, and further that the third Wednesday in the month was to be given entirely to sewing.

On the motion of the president, it was resolved that the members meet at Brady Cemetery on the last Saturday afternoon in May, and fix the graves with flowers, and otherwise help to beautify the place.

On Sunday May 29th it is proposed to hold a service in the Brady school in memory of the late Mr J. R. Jukes.

Further arrangements re this however will be made at the May meeting of the Aid.

The sewing meeting will be held on Wednesday April 20th at the home of Mrs. E. Foley, and the regular business meeting on May 4th at the home of Mrs. E. Reitchel.

Local Notes Of Interest

Born to Mr and Mrs Magel Johnson a daughter, April 15th 1921

We notice several Chauvin citizens have already got busy cleaning up their yards.

As a result of Miss Coleman's visit quite a number of the ladies of the district are proud possessors of new spring millinery.

The footballers and basket ballers are already out practising—sure sign of spring.

A good definition of a fool is one who thinks that "this time" doesn't count.

Mrs. J. MacDonald, of Unity was a guest at the D'Albertanson home over the week end.

We would like to know why Busvine persists in taking these premature baths on the streets and foot-Salt Lake opens up.

Miss Vera Fitzpatrick has been visiting a few days with her brother, Clinton, on her return trip from the Coast where she has been spending the winter with her sister.

Miss Sinclair and Miss Adeline Calder, of Winnipeg are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Keith.

ARTLAND ARGUS

Spring is here at last, after several poor attempts to establish itself in this frost bound section of the earth. A week ago the snow was piled in big drifts everywhere, but this week is showing a great advance and the snow has vanished before the smiling rays of Old Sol and Mother Earth is emerging once more from her long winter nap, and before long will appear in her glorious garb of green. The birds are coming back again in great numbers and when one awakes in the morning to hear a thousand different bird voices singing for sheer joy of living, one begins to think that the old world is a pretty good place to live in after all.

Quite a number of farmers are getting to work on their land, and altho there is a number of pretty muddy places in the hollows and low spots, we look to see plowing and seedling in full swing within ten days. There should be a good crop this year according to all signs and conditions. Plenty of moisture, and sun should procure a bumper.

We are sorry to hear of the indisposition of Mr Christianson's two daughters, Beatrice and Florence, who are both in Unity hospital. Beatrice has been through an operation and we understand she is doing well. We hope to see them back home soon with improved health.

Mr and Mrs Axel Gabrielson went to Wainwright to keep an appointment with the dentist. Axel will likely be all smiles when he returns.

Mrs Carter and Miss Carter were visitors to Artland on Monday.

Mr and Mrs Beattie were guests of Mr and Mrs Kitching over the week end.

Mr and Mrs Hilker spent the week end in Ribstone.

MEMORIES OF CHAUVIN

(The following poem was written by one who left Chauvin some time ago, and expresses in simple language the thoughts of the writer towards us. We are not privileged to publish the author's name—Editor)

There's not much seen from day to day—

My neighbor's house across the way,
The church, and Keith's, the meeting place

There you see many a kindly face
You pass them by a dozen times
And never think of them in rhymes,
Or fit for poet's singing:
Yet there the things you can't forget,
And there the things you'll miss one day

If ever you should go away.

The people here not much to see—
Just common folks—like you and me,
Doing the ordinary tasks
Which life, of everybody asks.

Dr Folkins still going his round
To where his patients can be found,
And Mayor Parcel's cheery face
Carries a smile to every place,
And Roy, who keeps the grocery store—
They are the folks you weary for.

They seem so plain when close to view
Ted Foxwell and his Brother too,
The Bankers—Men of higher rank
Because they chance to run the bank.
Yet friends to every one round here,
Quiet, kindly, and sincere,
Not much to sing about or praise,
Living their lives in modest ways—
Yet in your memory they'd stay
If ever you should go away.

These are the things and these the men
Some day you'll long to see again;
Now they're so near you scarcely see
The friendship that they are to thee,
But some day later on you will
And wonder if they are there still,
Maybe you scorn them now but they,
Will bring you back again some day,
One dare not mention such a thing
As floods returning in the spring.

Look for defects in a person and you will always find them—but look and woman is a preposition. We fail to see the conjunction.

SPORTS AND PATRIOTISM

There are two sides to every question.

For instance there is a sharp division of opinion as to what date should be set for the Chauvin Sports Day.

One section of the community favor holding Chauvin Sports Day on Dominion Day. They favor this day for sincerely patriotic reasons, this day being the anniversary of the Confederation. In fact Canada's national day, and as such to be observed.

Another section do not favor this day for the Chauvin Sports Day. Not from lack of patriotism, but from a practical view-point. Mainly this section is composed of the old guard of workers, who in the past have carried on and have attained splendid results. This section base their opposition to July 1st on their experience in the past years, and knowledge of present conditions.

If the reader will bear patiently with us, we will endeavour to outline the reason for this. On the first occasion of a Chauvin Sports Day, the country was still very sparsely settled. The earlier settlement around Manitou Lake had already held their sports on July 1st the year before, and as an act of courtesy as well as necessity, Chauvin chose July 4th. Wainwright starting the same year chose July 1st. Until the present year this arrangement has been approved, and this arrangement has proved profitable. The choice of July 4th was not, as some suppose, a machination of a few Americans, nor was Chas. Kirby the originator of this dating.

In support of continuing the Chauvin Sports Day on a date other than the 1st of July this section are entitled to point to the many improvements on the Chauvin sports ground—the diamond, the fencing around it, the grandstand, the racecourse, the football field etc.—and to the maintenance each year of a baseball team, ($400.00 yearly). They feel that a continuance of the past policy will ensure a continuance of their efforts to put in more improvements, the need of which is commonly recognized by all.

They maintain that the reason why a Sports Day on July 1st would not render profit to provide for these improvements, is that Manitou Lake, Wainwright, Provost and Neutral Hills all have their Sports Day on that date, attracting the crowds, and preventing the ball teams from coming to Chauvin, as in the past. The absence of the ball teams would mean the absence of the customary large crowd and their admission money (amounting last year to $472.40). It is but fair to state that WITH this big gate money there is little opportunity to make Sports day profitable. Last year, for instance the total monies received amounted to $1423.55. The expenditures all told were $1299.75, leaving a profit of $123.80. Now bear in mind that this profit included $153.00 donated by the business men of Chauvin, $66.00 membership fees, and $77.50 which was the amount of prizes won by the footballers and turned in to the general fund by them. The amount thus donated, $296.50, was greater than the profits of the day. In fact there really was a net actual loss of $172.70.

They contend that it is absolutely impossible to run the same scale of Sports Day on July 1st profitably. They speak from knowledge and experiencing. They do not wish to compete with Manitou Lake for Artland folks; nor with Wainwright for Edgerton guests. They therefore expect only a much smaller crowd (and income) on July 1st.

They feel that those who are urging the change of date for patriotic reasons do not appreciate the difficulties inseparable from financing this Sports Day.

Edgerton, facing the same difficulty, chose Victoria Day, May 24th, two years ago (did not have picnic last year) and had a very successful Sports. Victoria day is recognized as Edgerton's day.

Could it not be possible for Chauvin to adopt some other national holiday: the King's Birthday, or Peace Day, July 19th?

Is it not possible that both sections, who admittedly both have good arguments, could not compromise in the selection of a day of national character, and a day which would permit visitors from Wainwright, Provost, Manitou Lake and other points visiting our Sports?

It must always be borne in mind that playing baseball and holding Sports is no sure sign of the possession of true patriotism. The observation of the day by merely ceasing from business, or work may or may not be an expression of patriotism. But there is no denying that true patriotism calls for the greatest good for the greatest number.

Poison the gophers early. A pair killed in early spring means as much as ten killed in June. When gophers come out in April they take poisoned bait readily.

An excellent receipt for preparing poison is as follows:

Dissolve 2 ounces of strychnine crystals in equal part of vinegar and water one quart of each. When dissolved add sugar to sweeten it well and enough wheat to soak up all the liquid. Let the grain stand in the liquid for 2 days, and then set it out for the gophers. This makes strong bait and one kernel will kill any gopher that samples it. The main point in poisoning gophers is to get the poison out early in the spring. No use waiting until June when the land is infested with the rodents: kill them before they breed.

Gopher Poisoning Season Now On

Just now is the time to get after the gophers. Strychnine, Gophericide Kill-Em-Quick, and Mickelson's, any one or all of which we sold before and are new to you. We want to tell you however that we have this year added a new one called "The Eveready Gopher Poison". Put up in tin cans.

The proprietors claim it is the handiest to use and poisons more grain per cent invested than any other poison on the market.

We know of many Rural Municipalities that use it exclusively. Try a can and see for yourself.

Tractor Farming Lectures & Pictures

The enterprize of J. A. Code was responsible for a most interesting afternoon, for those interested in tractor farming, last Friday.

A mechanical shool was held in the Code garage early in the afternoon. Mr. T. E. McGinnis Fordson Tractor Expert delivering an instructive lecture on the principles, construction and operation of gas engines. He used simple language and dealt with his subject in a comprehensive manner.

A lecture, illustrated with motion pictures was delivered by Professor A. Blackstock, Bachelor of Agricultural Science, graduate of the University of Manitoba, practical farmer and late farm manager of the Provincial school of agriculture, Vermilion. This lecture was highly instructive, dealing with cultivation and moisture, his points being demonstrated by a series of pictures showing the germination and growth of corn. Other topics of interest to agriculturists were dealt with, and a brief talk, with pictures, on the manufacture of steel.

The evening lecture was delivered in the Oddfellow Hall, and was well attended. The afternoon and evening session together were in fact just what might be termed as a short course agricultural school.

Chauvin Dist. U.F.A.

The Chauvin District U.F.A., at the meeting of April 7th decided to purchase a supply of Gopher Poison, the tender of C. C. McKechnie, Chauvin Pharmacy, being accepted.

Members requiring gopher poison are requested to communicate with the secretary, P. H. Perry.

The following delegates were present at the meeting: Killarney, H. Young; Lealholme, C. Ryall; Airlie, H. Butler and J. Craddock; Edinglassie, P. H. Perry.

The Noon Hour

"Let me have sleeping accommodations on the train to Ottawa," I said to the man at the window, who didn't seem at all concerned whether I took the trip or stayed home.

"For a single passenger?" he finally he said.

"No," I replied, "I'm married but I'm not taking anybody with me. A single shelf will answer."

"Upper or lower?" he asked.

"What's the difference?" I enquired.

"A difference of fifty cents," came the answer.

"Our prices to Ottawa are $2.50 and $3.00."

"You understand, of course," exclaimed the agent, "the lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower berth. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper berth lower than the lower. It didn't use to be so, but we in other words the higher the fewer."

"Why do they all prefer the lower?" I broke in.

"On account of it's convenience," he replied. "Most persons don't like the upper, although it's lower, on account of it being higher, and because when you occupy the upper berth you have to get up to go to bed, and then you I'd advise you to take a lower, although it's higher than the upper, for the reason I have stated, that the upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. You can have the lower if you pay higher; but if you are willing to go higher it will be lower."

District Oddfellows To Celebrate 102nd Anniversary; Chauvin

Sunday May 8th is to be a red letter day in the history of the local Oddfellows and Rebekahs. The members of these orders from Edgerton and Wainwright will visit Chauvin on this day to celebrate the 102nd anniversary. A public service will be held in the Oddfellow Hall, early in the afternoon, at which Rev. Bro. Maddocks, of Edgerton and Rev. Bro. Priestley,

By Washouts

Sunday was a day of trouble for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in this district. Two washouts with minor accidents has cut off the thru service on the main line. The location of one is about one and half miles from Unity, and the other is near Scott. Two men received injuries, fortunately not of severe character. At time of writing (Tuesday night) the track is still out of commission.

Similar trouble developed on the C. P. R. road, and traffic is interrupted between Saskatoon and Westaskiwin.

Gamblers on a homeward bound Atlantic liner fleeced the passengers out of $12,000. European hotel keepers must be losing some of their business sagacity to let that amount of money go aboard.

Somehow or other a woman's figure seems to fit any fashion.

Get the Extra Years of Better Service these Plows Give You

New Deere Sulky and Gang Plows are known among farmers everywhere for their better, longer seed-bed making service—qualities that spell economy in the long run.

New Deere Sulky and Gang Plows

In no other plows of their type can you get the combined advantages that New Deere plows give you. The more important features are:

Genuine John Deere bottoms that cut, turn, scour and pulverize to make the most productive seed bed. Built of the highest grade of material and reinforced where the wear is greatest, they outlast any other bottoms.

Full plowing depth is reached almost instantly and an even depth and width furrow is maintained under all conditions, the result is uniformly deep, roomy seed beds.

Quick detachable shares make changing shares a quick, easy job. They retain their original shape and fit closely.

There are many important features in New Deere Plows we can show you on our sample floor.

Come in and look them over.

Another Good Clyde Stallion Is Brought In

"Langwater Benedict", a very fine dark brown Clydesdale stallion, sired by "Lord Gleniffer" (Imp), and whose dam was "Brookside Maud". Bred on the establishment of F. Lethrop Ames, North Easton, Mass., U. S. A., and brought to Alberta by Alex. Galbraith, was brought to the Chauvin district by George Reynolds this week.

This horse is a fine type of Clydesdale, having won fifth place in a show of nineteen at the Edmonton Spring Exhibition.

Choice Bulls Coming To Chauvin District

By the enterprise of James Semple the Chauvin district is the richer by a most excellent Shorthorn Bull.

The new bull is a fine weighty specimen of a red Shorthorn bull, three years old, with good length of body, and all the characteristic features of his breed. He was a prize winner at the Edmonton Spring Exhibition

* * *

E. B. Lang also purchased a bull calf sired by the same bull. Both animals arrived last week end.

* * *

Mr. Geo. Snell, Sr. has returned from the east where he went to visit his son Wesley Snell who has been Ont. since he came west.

Mr. Snell visited the largest Shorthorn breeders in the east and bought one from Miller & Dryden, forty miles east of Toronto, which was imported last fall from Scotland. He has the best Scotch top breeding which his papers will show. This is one of the best animals that has come into this district. He is expected to arrive some time in May in the Government car. He is registered under the name of Grandfield 5700051

Travel Will Prove Good Investment

In every person's life at some time or other there comes a feeling of utter exhaustion, or as some say "Fed Up" with a general lack of interest in their everyday surroundings. Hard work is as a rule blamed for this condition, and little is done to remedy it until too late and the family physician is called. Work may be to a certain extent responsible for this condition, but the chief reason is the lack of a change, a relaxation of the mind. Get new sights and how the rest of the world live. Enjoy a change of climate. There are thousands of interesting places in Canada which may be enjoyed either winter or summer, and within easy reach via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

A trip at any season of the year send you back with renewed vigor, broader views and much wiser from the knowledge gained. A postal card to any Canadian Pacific Agent will bring you literature and information desired.

It is with regret that we have to report the death of George, age 35, the eldest son of Mr and Mrs William Spence. He has been suffering for a number of years, and for the last three months has been in the hospital at Edmonton. News of his death reached Artland last Wednesday morn and his mother, who has been visiting in the east was telegraphed for. The funeral took place in the Brady Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, following a service which was held at the deceased's home. Much sympathy is felt for Mr and Mrs Spence in their sad bereavement.

George Spence Dies At Edmonton

Tuesday, April 12th, at Edmonton, where he was undergoing treatment George Spence passed to the Great Beyond quite peacefully. The news of his death caused a great shadow over his home and the district.

The deceased, who was 33 years of age, has been ailing since his arrival to this country. He caught a chill when bringing the cows, and has been incapacitated since that time. Until two years ago he was able to light work and delighted to ride the plow and perform such other tasks as lay in his power. Though all his weakness he maintained a sunny cheery disposition, and thus was a favorite with all. Consequently his death, not altogether unexpected came as a blow to his parents and brothers and sisters, as it did to his many friends.

The funeral was conducted from the home, Sunday April 17th. Rev. Miller, of Chauvin officiating. More than forty rigs full of friends and sympathizers being present to pay their final tribute of respect.

Wreaths from the Lealholme U.F.A. and W.A., and from Mr and Mrs Alex Taylor decorated the coffin. Mesrs W. Miller, N. Miller, I. Neil, D. Ferguson, T. Anderson, G. Anderson acted as pall-bearers; J. McEver driving the hearse.

The interment ceremony was performed in the Brady Cemetery.

* * *

O, George, we will miss you,
All your friends will think of you
And our home will seem so lonely,
For your smiles so brave and true.
But when our prayers are answered,
And the strife of life is o'er
We will again, be with you, George
And you will leave us nevermore.

Southern Minstrel Concert At Ribstone

On Friday night April 15th the municipal hall, at Ribstone was crowded to capacity, when a show was presented by the Southern Belles and to swell the funds of the Ribstone Baseball Club. In the chorus there was between sixteen and twenty ladies in Southern Belle costume and also a similar number of male members of the chorus.

The opening "My Dixie Home" by the belles, was followed by a unique solo "I've bound for the Cotton field" brought the house down with applause. "The Plantation Melody" by the Ribstone Athletic Club was a choice bit of melody. Fred Dalyn gave a humorous recitation "I long to hear the dinner horn". Fun was fast and furious when the four end men, Bones, Moans, Sambo and Tambo gave their rapid fire of humor interspersed with vocal and instrumental melodies, the jingle of banjos, tambourines, bones. All in true Southern style.

"I've goin back to Dixie" by Ernie Dell was pathetic, while the "Colored girls I love so well" by Fred Dallyn received hearty encores. "My sunny southern home" by Baby Mills was well received. "I've going back to Alabama to-morrow" by H. Price with a banjo accompaniment provoked encores which were undeniable. The melody by the mandolin ladies from 16-43-2 was of high standard a four part song by two men and two ladies. "Come and see my Dixie Home" was heartily encored. After this a Lullaby chorus and song "Kiss me quick and go brought down the house. The chorus and song "The Ribstone girls are out to-night" proved a favorite.

Notice Re Gopher Poisoning 1921

The Council of the Municipality are spending considerable money each year for poison for the destruction of money, they consider that it should be spent in such manner as to kill the most Gophers.

It is of no use for the council to get a supply of poison and have it used when the poisoners think they have time to put it out. This system is absolute waste of money, and as it is your money the council ask that the Gophers will be poisoned as soon in the spring as they start to come out, and that another dose could be set out about two weeks after the first with good effect.

If any quarters are poisoned by a ratepayer and those adjoining are not poisoned in reasonable time by the ones whom should poison them, the council ask that the location of the unpoisoned quarters be given to the councillor of the division in which they are in, these lands will then be liable to be entered upon and the poison laid and charged to the owner as are company lands.

The poison for this year is now on hand and will be ready when the time comes to lay it out.

THE SUITABLE VARIETIES OF SMALL GRAINS FOR ALBERTA

The most suitable varieties of spring wheat for Central Alberta must combine high yield and high quality. In addition to these, early maturing, non shattering propensity, with strong straw, and disease resistance are characteristics to be desired.

Marquis is high in yield, high in quality, rather short in the straw, and early in maturing. It possesses a bearded head of medium length, which resists shattering, but threshes with considerable difficulty. This variety is more likely to give satisfactory results than Red Fife on heavy soils, on fallowed lands, in moist regions where fall frosts are feared, and in those areas where a short straw is preferred. Despite all its good features, it is scarcely early enough to avoid fall frosts in some wheat-growing sections in this province. It is the result of a cross between Hard Red Calcutta, an Indian wheat, and Red Fife.

Red Fife is high in yield, high in quality, long in the straw, and comparatively late in maturing. The head of this wheat is scarcely as broad as Marquis and is less harsh to the touch. It is bearded, shatters somewhat, and, in contrast with Marquis, threshes with comparative ease and completeness. It is suited to the lighter, earlier types of soil; to the driest parts of the province, to all areas where early frosts are not feared, and to those areas where long straw is desired.

Early Red Fife is a hard red wheat of high milling and baking qualities. The head of this wheat looks very like Red Fife, and possesses similar shattering propensities. The straw is shorter than that of Red Fife, and equally strong. Early Red Fife rivals Marquis in earliness, productivity, drought resistance, and strength of straw.

Huron Stanley, and Preston are all inferior in quality, especially baking quality, to both Red Fife and Marquis. It is true the two former have many friends in parts of the province because of their satisfactory earliness.

and yielding qualities. Because, however, of the superior quality of Marquis, these cannot command a higher position, and their use must be of local significance. They are all cross-bred wheats. Huron is a cross between Ladoga and Red Fife.

Ladoga is a wheat of inferior milling and baking qualities. It possesses a red berry. It is used to some extent in the moist areas of this province. It is used very extensively for crossing purposes, because of its early maturing characteristics.

Kitchener is high in yield, high in quality, rather short, and strong in the straw and medium early maturing. It does not appear to be reproducing itself very true to type, although tests are not of sufficiently long standing to classify it.

Pioneer is a wheat that is earlier than Marquis and longer in the straw than Prelude. It has a bearded head, and a hard red berry. The straw is rather weak, rusts badly, and is subject to lodging. It yields less than Marquis, but more than Prelude. It is high in milling and baking qualities, of good appearance, and satisfactory weight per bushel. It is a good wheat for all areas where earliness and fair length of straw are desired.

Prelude is a wheat of high quality and low yield. It is ten days or more earlier than Marquis, and considerably shorter in the straw. It possesses a bearded head, which shatters under the slightest provocation. If allowed to become quite ripe the loss from shattering is very heavy. This variety may find a place in areas where Marquis and Pioneer cannot with certainty be grown.

Ruby is a new hard Red wheat. It is high in both baking and milling qualities, and yields similarly to Pioneer. As compared with Pioneer, however, it has the advantage of being stronger in the straw and beardless. This wheat has been tested for a number of years at the experimental station, and the results are satisfactory. It should command a place where Prelude has hitherto been employed, as it is quite superior in all respects except earliness.

Red Bob is a new hard wheat that has been given much prominence during the past two years. It has not been tested sufficiently in Alberta, however, to be passed upon at this time from tests conducted at Vermillion and Claresholm for two and one years respectively. It has not yielded so well as the Prelude, which is our lowest yielding standard wheat.

Winter wheat is grown in several sections of this province. Among the desired qualities in winter wheat hardness, quality and productiveness are considered of major importance. Alberta Red and Ghirka are all being used with success.

There are many definite counts against the one-cash-crop system. The distress that comes when the market for the one crop fails is the one most in the minds of the farmers today. It should be remembered that similar distress is sure to come when drought or other circumstances causes the one crop to fail.

These two counts alone, however, are not enough for conviction. The one-cash-crop farmer who considers them the only drawbacks to his system is too likely to take a chance on the weather, the insects, and the market.

There are other counts against the system—counts that are of vital importance to successful farming.

In the first place, too large an acreage in one crop fails to provide for the rotation of crops and the building up of soil fertility. In spite of its obviousness, and in spite of the fact that it has been emphasized to the limit for many years, the reminder again seems pertinent that oats after oats and wheat after wheat—year after year in the same fields—steadily decreases the fertility of the soil. Over a period of years, this decrease will far more than balance any extra profits that may be made from the one-cash-crop in years when both market conditions are especially favorable.

Again, the one-cash-crop system fails to produce sufficient food for the family and feed for the live-stock. This is a point which often gets too little consideration but which has been recently emphasized by conditions in many sections.

Take for instance the experience of the exclusive grain grower last year. When the crop production season began, they figured that with wheat over $2.00 they could afford to buy most of their food and feed. For these products they paid "boom-time" prices. They borrowed money to buy, feeling sure that the $2.00 wheat they were raising would enable them to pay easily when they marketed their crop. Naturally it was a severe jolt for these farmers when the selling season found the bottom falling out of grain prices and big debts coming due.

No manufacturer could hope to succeed by operating his plant on only a half-time basis. No merchant could make enough to live on, if his store were practically closed during six months of the year. Or, to carry the comparison still further, a merchant might have a big and profitable trade on rubber boots during the wet season, yet he couldn't afford to "run out of stock" on his other goods and be busy only when rubber boots were in demand.

Finally, the one-cash-crop system in good years and bad, produces a cash income but once during the year. Many farmers who follow the system must pay high interest each year on money borrowed to tide them over until the cash crop can be marketed.

Nothing in the foregoing is aimed to discourage the growing of wheat in the regions to which the crop is suited. The crop will always be the main stay of the Western Canadian

Old Methods

During past recent years the one-cash-crop system was favored by abnormal war conditions. Wheat sold at such a price that growers seemed justified in forgetting all about oats, barley and rye, while they devoted every resource to the "big money" crops. Compared with wheat other farm products seemed insignificant. So many farmers neglected meat, dairy and poultry products, got away from his system of rotating crops, and practically converted his farm into a wheat factory. In many sections of the prairie provinces the pre-war trend toward diversified farming was checked. It was easier to raise wheat. The guaranteed price assured safety plus good profits. Farmers to a great extent forsook the diversified system and devoted their resources to cashing in on wheat.

The temporary conditions that gave allurements to the one-cash-crop system have passed, however. Now, as before the war, the case against that system is clearcut and convincing. It is not a business-like system. Like most other "get-rich-quick" schemes, it is crammed full of hazards. It simply won't do for the farmer who effects to lay in business and enjoy steady prosperity.

But no farmer should forget the fundamental principle that no one-crop system of farming ever resulted in continued prosperity.

The farmer who runs his business on safe, business-like principles, fortifies himself for every emergency.

He produces, first of all, the meat, dairy and poultry products and most of the other food that the family requires for its living. That is the primary business of farming.

He has a surplus of dairy and poultry products to sell—a surplus that insures a cash income every week throughout the year.

He rotates his cash food and feed crops, giving due emphasis to the one or two cash crops best suited to his soil and climate, and most sure of commanding a good market price, but not neglecting those other crops which aid directly in building up the fertility of his soil, and which are necessary to meet the food requirements of his live stock.

Over a period of years any farmer who follows a good diversified system will have a greater average annual income than will the farmer who risks the one-cash-crop system. The productivity of his soil will be greater. The value of all of his farm resources will be considerably more. And he will have the steadier peace of mind that comes from greater independence of wheather and market conditions.

The Editor's Table

THE INCOME TAX

It is generally realized that revenue for carrying on public affairs and paying interest on our war debt, must be provided and for doing this the income tax has much to recommend it. But the method of collecting might be improved. The government in this matter act in a paternal capacity, but the average individual is beginning to realize that this paternal government is a grandfather in his second childhood. It has too many second thoughts and requests for additional information. Filling out an income tax return is quite a task for the average individual, but in most cases all the information asked for is given and an honest return filed. But that is not the end of the matter. Very often the tax payer is bombarded for additional information. Some of these requests appear to question one's honest forms to be filled in it would appear reasonable to expect it to accept the information tendered except in cases of palpable error. If it is not the intention to accept the information filed, then some other means should be devised for getting it. In the majority of cases the individual feels that he is burdened by an unjust tariff tax. Why proceed to make them sore by the manner of collecting the income tax, a tax which is considered reasonable and just?

Why not bring the tax-payer and tax collector face to face. This long range business is not satisfactory. Why not appoint some man in each municipality or district, the secretary-treasurer of the municipality, a banker, lawyer, or other competent party, before whom one could appear and file his income tax return, between certain fixed dates after the New Year? Many persons at the present time have lawyer or banker fill out their returns. Under the suggested arrangement an individual would bring the necessary information and with the assistance of tax collector, make out his return. The collector would calculate the amount of tax due, if any, the person pay his tax, get his receipt and copy of return, and the matter would be ended for a year. In case of dispute or mistake the right to appeal should be the privilege of either party.

MOTORS AND GOOD ROADS

Good roads mean money in the pocket of every automobile owner. They mean comfort to the body of every automobile rider. Efficiency and economy of operation pay large and certain dividends on every dollar. As these improvements are extended even the man who neither drives nor rides on the open highway will take his profit from improved transportation of farm products and more rapid and economical communication in business and industry.

Fifty American farmers arrived in Winnipeg recently from Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Illinois and Wisconsin en route to western points, the majority of whom emigrated to Canada as a result of having friends in the west. They claim a large number of farmers in the United States are contemplating coming to Canada as soon as present holdings can be disposed of.

The advertising columns in this issue are full of new messages from the keenest business men in town. It will help us to produce a better news paper if you tell these merchants sometimes: "I saw it in The Chronicle". Anyway we would advise you to deal with them. You may safely leave the silent trader alone. He has no message and no enterprise—and it is most unlikely that he can have fresh stock! Advertising is the heartbeat of business.

WHAT TO DO?

Farmers all over the country are now out looking the skies over so that they can forecast the future of their business. What will be our luck this season? Are we going to go ahead and grow big crops again in spite of the decrease in the prices enjoyed in recent years? These are some of the questions men are asking themselves.

It is all right to ask questions, too. But this is no time to stand still and wait for an answer. Every individual must answer these questions for himself. Nobody else will answer them for him. And in working out the solution to these problems which loom up, just two things are sure:

The first is that looking on the bright side of things will help more than anything else to get around on the right side of success. No man can do his best and be all the time timid and fearful and full of forebodings. He must take the best possible view of matters, push on and out and work just as if he expected to win the very best there is.

The other thing is to talk success. Nothing helps more than a cheery, courageous, optimistic spirit. But to make it count for most, we need to let it out. It is the steam that pushes out of the boiler which works the piston in the cylinder. A well-founded trust in one's own self and a sure confidence that all will work out right—if we work it out right—will inspire our fellows only if we talk it and write it and act it out in everything we do, from seeding time to harvest.

The way to keep folks from saying mean things about you is to stop doing mean things.
